

Professional Summary of Dean M. Hanink, Professor

Revised 1/08

Office Address: Department of Geography, U-4148, University of Connecticut, Storrs, CT 06269; E-mail: dean.hanink@uconn.edu

Education: B.A. Geography, 1975, Aquinas College; M.A. Geography, 1978, Eastern Michigan University; Ph.D. Geography, 1980, University of Georgia

Field of Specialization: Economic Geography/Regional Science

Courses: World Regional Geography, Economic Development, Regional Development and Policy, Geographic Data Analysis

Research Interests: Regional Economic Change, Economic Development

Recent Refereed Publications (2004-present):

2004. "'Moderate' Environmental Amenities and Economic Change: The Nonmetropolitan Northern Forest of the Northeast US, 1970-2000." With K. White. Growth and Change 35: 42-60.

2005. "Comparative Advantage in Land Use Allocation under Regionalism." With R. Cromley. Environment and Planning B 32: 281-292.

2005. "Geographic Change with Trade Based on Comparative Advantage." With R. Cromley. Annals of the Association of American Geographers, 95: 511-524.

2006. "A Spatial Analysis of Sectoral Variations in Returns to External Scale." Journal of Regional Science, 46: 953-968.

2006. "Have Per Capita Earnings and Income Converged across New England?" With M. Rapino and B. Spaulding. Growth and Change 37: 620-637.

2007. "Spatial and Geographical Effects in Regional Multiplier Analysis." Environment and Planning A, 39: 748-762.

2007. "A land use model of the effects of eco-labeling in coffee markets" With P. Heidkamp and R. Cromley. Annals of Regional Science DOI 10.1007/s00168-007-0176-9

Forthcoming. "Locational Equilibria in Weberian Agglomeration." With R. Cromley. Geographical Analysis